SPRING
BROCHURE
2021

WELCOME TO THE SAINSBURY CENTRE

With spring on the way, we are looking forward to the longer and lighter days ahead. Whether you're interested in exhibitions, sculptures, or just finding a really good cup of coffee, and great shopping, we have lots for you to look forward to in the coming months.

When we reopen, we are excited to share the work of three great artists in our Bill Brandt | Henry Moore and Grayson Perry: The Pre-Therapy Years exhibitions.

We are also delighted to announce two new exhibitions opening later this year: Rhythm and Geometry: Constructivist Art in Britain since 1951 and Leiko Ikemura: Usagi in Wonderland.

Don't forget to enjoy the delicious eating and drinking options on offer at the Sainsbury Centre when we reopen. Our new cafe, The Terrace, in the east end serves a range of Square Mile specialty coffees alongside superb food from local Norfolk suppliers. The Modern Life Cafe is now offering table-service only with a stylish new menu.

Visitors of all ages can enjoy our Sculpture Park and creative learning programmes, either in person or from the comforts of home in our Online Studio. Visit our What's On page to find the latest events.

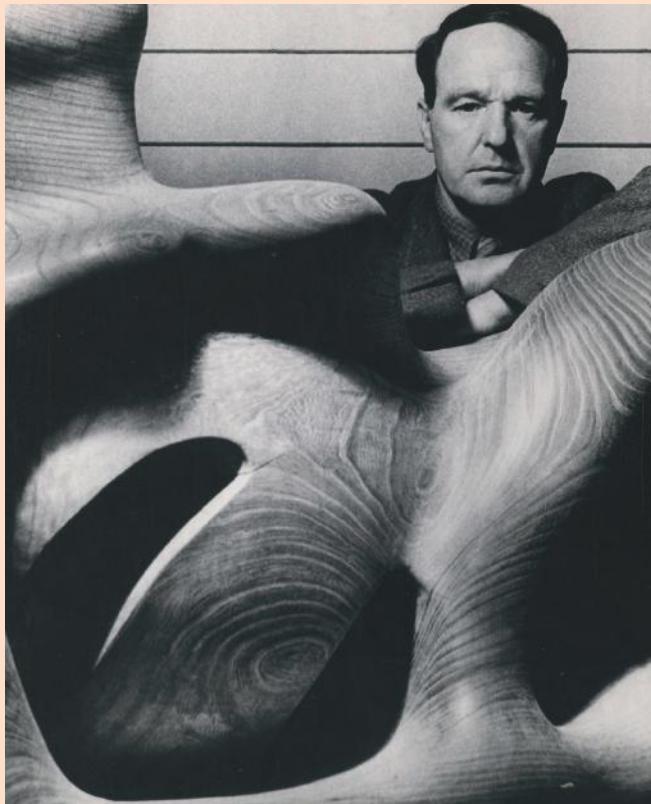

Thank you for your continued support through what has been a very challenging year for all. Here's to a brighter 2021.

BILL BRANDT | HENRY MOORE

Until Spring 2021

Explore the intersecting paths of two great artists of the 20th century. Photographer Bill Brandt and sculptor Henry Moore met after they had both created images of the London Underground during the Blitz. They both went on to depict subjects including coal miners and their families, Stonehenge, and the body presented as landscape. Discover almost 200 works, featuring Brandt's rare colour transparencies and Moore's little-known photo collages.

Organised by the Yale Center for British Art in partnership with The Hepworth Wakefield.

GRAYSON PERRY: THE PRE-THERAPY YEARS

Until Summer 2021

Surveying for the first time Grayson Perry's earliest forays into the art world, this exhibition re-introduces the explosive and creative works made during his formative years between 1982 and 1994.

The exhibition displays the earliest works – pots, plates and sculptures – that first made Perry's name. It shines a light on his experimentation and exploration of the potential of pottery to address radical issues and human stories.

RHYTHM AND GEOMETRY:

Constructivist Art in Britain since 1951

From Summer 2021

This exhibition celebrates the radical constructed abstract art made and exhibited in Britain since 1951.

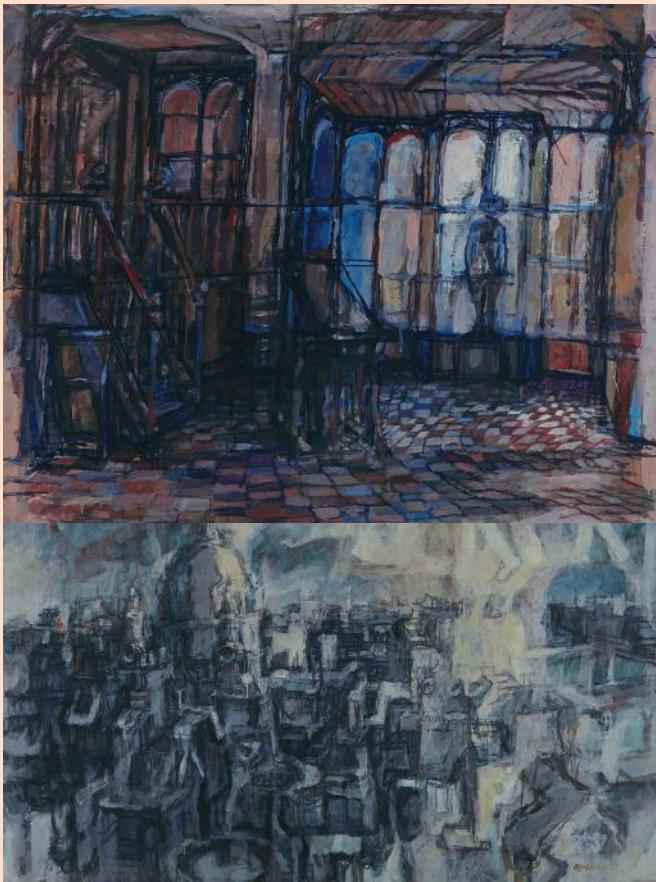

Artists include Robert Adams, Anthony Hill, Kenneth Martin, Mary Martin, Victor Pasmore, Jean Spencer, Gillian Wise, Mary Webb, and Li Yuan-Chia. The exhibition also honours the pioneering galleries and exhibitions, which brought such artists as Lygia Clark, Takis, and Victor Vasarely to the UK for the first time.

More details on tickets and concessions in our next brochure.

After many delays the Sainsbury Centre's touring exhibition, The Body Observed: Magnum Photos, has opened at Fundación Canal, Madrid. Over 1500 people visited the exhibition in its first weekend and it has been featured on national television news.

The exhibition explores how Magnum photographers have turned their lens to the body, presenting works that examine a range of subjects from identity, intimacy, sexuality and ritual, to voyeurism and performance.

We are pleased to continue our partnership with Magnum Photos to bring this exhibition to new audiences in Europe. The Body Observed runs until 28 March 2021.

Young Associates

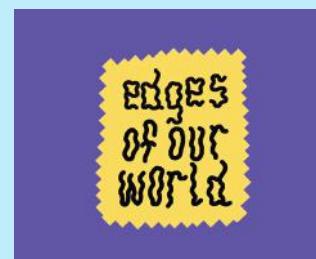

FREE

6 weeks
Tuesdays
2 February – 9 March
4.30-6pm
Sessions will take place online

Work with other people aged 16-25 to develop your own arts projects in response to the Sainsbury Centre. Try out new ideas, learn new skills, share your work, meet artists and join a network of new collaborators.

Guided by artist Anna Brass, sessions will draw on digital, art historical and counter-cultural practices, and will use the Sainsbury Centre Collections as a starting point for creative projects. Over 6 weeks, we will explore questions to reflect on historical and contemporary approaches to making and thinking about art.

Adventures of the Mundane with Paul Patrick Fenner

When compelled to spend almost all our time at home, our first impulse might well be one of escape: the internet! novels! films! But what if we turn our full attention to what is closest to us? Adventures of the Mundane is a series of creative drawing activities designed by Associate Artist Paul Patrick Fenner.
